

September 23, 2007
September 10, 2007

John 3: 13-17

In the reading the church gives us this Sunday, we are reminded again by St John's gospel what is and should be the central theme of our Faith, which is put so direct in verse 15-17. Whoever believes in the cross and Resurrection shall have eternal life. As it is written and as we will observe this coming Thursday, the cross and Christ's conquering of death is what gives us life and salvation--if we choose. Even when we die physically, we will live forever with Him in paradise. We have a promise from Jesus when He said: I am the resurrection and the life, whoever believes in Me though he dies shall live.